THE FLACES SENTENCED.

Justice BARRETT passed sentence this morning on the Flack conspirators. Sheriff Flack was fined $500 and sen to two months' imprisonment. On Ioseph Meess was imposed a similar fine and one month's impris WILL FLACE fared the worst, his sentence being four months' imprisonment and a fine of $500.

To bim Justice BARRETT said these scathing words ; "You betrayed the mother that bore you. You were to protect her in the proceedings. But, instead, you left her in the position that if your father pleased, m he had obtained this decree and had gone across the line into some other State, he could cast her off without one penny, and she would have had nothing to appeal to in the law. You were faithless to your mother."

Ten of the convicting jury sent a petition to the Court asking that Sheriff FLACE be let off with a fine, but it was mot regarded.

PALM SUNDAY.

Yesterday certainly carried off the palm for weather. Our own American climate was in great form, and did its " lightning changes" in a way that said to the swift soubrette of the variety stage: " Go to, thou sluggard."

Nothing makes an American feel more that he is upon his native heath than to progress through half a dozen layers of dinners sent from a neighboring hotel Neapolitan ice. It was raw, cold, and save one-third on the ordinary expense foreboding rain. Then it snowed in a fitful, capricious way. Then, presto! the plies. Enough remains from the meal for the day. The weather was as variable as a co-

Instead of sirloin eak, fried potatoes and wheat cakes, the intelligent riser has a dish of hominy, a couple of boiled eggs or a bluefish, a roll, a cup of coffee and a saucer of water resses or stewed fruit for a finish. This meal can often be procured from the innitor for 30 cents, and at 1 o'clock the aterer's wagon stops at the door with baked potatoes and mest pie, or bouillon and chops, with a salad, a comport of fruit ambrosial, chocolate and tarts. Delicate things like omelets are made over a spirit lamp.

At Sherry's, Pinard's, Maillard's, Delnonico's and kindred restaurants hundreds of special dishes, such as puddings, roasts, game, loaf cake, salads, creams, soups and entrees are sent out to private homes every day in the week. This process relieves the mistress of marketing, saves her house from "cooking smells" and insures her table a choice dish. In small families of three and four it is found cheaper to have all the vegetable, soup and meat courses prepared in this way, the dining-room maid getting the salad, bread and butter, fruit and coffee at home.

I was told the other day by a lady who keeps two servants that she has all her weather arranged in thin strata like a kitchen, by which process she is able to account for groceries and butchers' supsun laughed on you, and so on through the next day's luncheon, and for break fast the baker leaves fresh rolls at the door every morning and coffee, eggs, chops and rice are prepared in the kitchen.
